

Economic policy, 2012-2013

Introduction

Jean Pisani-Ferry
Université Paris-Dauphine

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

1

What this course is about

- Economic policy: questions/ theories / institutions
- Main discussions of recent decades, e.g. effectiveness of budgetary policy, choice of an exchange rate regime, policies for growth, etc..
- Crisis leads to serious questioning of traditional philosophy, assignment of instruments.
- Aim is to build bridges between elegant models and the daily life of policymaking as practiced in government or institutions
- Posits that evidence-based policy exists
- Room for debate – structured eclecticism rather than a unified doctrine

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

2

Why this course is different

- Demand-driven rather than supply-driven: starts from policy questions, not from theories
- Up-to-date: discusses the currently pressing policy issues and aim at addressing them analytically
- Attention to facts: stylised facts are presented first, models follow
- Theory-intensive, but theory is introduced as necessary
- Discusses lessons to be drawn from economic analysis for resolving policy dilemmas
- Covers wide range of issues (though mostly macro)

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

3

Value for students

- Introduction to real-life economics (good for those who intend to enter labour market)
- Opportunity to revisit and test theories (good for those who intend to start a PhD)
- Opportunity to revisit current discussions in the light of theories and facts (good for everyone)

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

4

Course outline

1. Concepts
2. Economic policy in a complex world
3. Budgetary policy
4. Monetary policy
5. International financial integration and foreign-exchange policy
6. Growth policy
7. Tax policy
8. (Employment policy)
9. (Economic policy and the crisis)

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

5

Textbooks

Politique économique,
De Boeck 2012

Economic Policy: Theory and Practice,
Oxford UP 2010

3rd edition of French version for release in October
Will update English version (currently latest)
Current French 2010 print better than 2009 print

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

6

Typical chapter structure

- Stylised facts
- Relevant theories and models
- Policy issues

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

7

The way we will work

Typical lesson structure

- Chapter presentation
- Reflection
 - Discussion of articles
 - Focus on some models (equation work)
- Debate on current issue
 - Presentation of facts and policy issues
 - Discussion of options

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

8

What matters for me

- Not that you remember extensively
- Not whether you agree with me (I like debate)
- But:
 - How well you understand theories
 - How well you present facts and data
 - How well you deal with models
 - How rigorously you think about economic policy issues
- When a question is asked, answer the question, not the vaguely related one that is addressed in the course or elsewhere

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

9

Prerequisites

- Economic culture
- Basic macro
- Familiarity with formalisation

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

10

Homework

- Consult the website
- Read the chapter of the week
- Read the recommended papers
- Read other papers also (guidance provided)
- Read about current economic policy issues
- Check the data

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

11

Grades

- Grades based on:
 - Participation in discussions
 - Essay in December
 - Written exam in January
- Full access to written course material authorised for exams

jean pisani-ferry, september 2012

12

Contact

- www.pisani-ferry.typepad.com/courses
- jean[at]pisani-ferry.net (insist if I don't reply)
- +322 227 42 80